CITIZENS OPPOSE TRASH PLANT SITE

Also Against Location of City Stables—Plans Not Final, Say D. C. Heads.

The Commissioners are not absolutely decided upon the square bounded by 1st and 2d, N. and O streets north of the city, for a site for a trash plant, asphalt plant and municipal stables, Engineer Commissioner Charles W. Kutz stated today. Opposition to the location of these city facilities so close to the center of the city as the point mentioned has developed in citizens' associations of the northeast.

The Commissioners, Col. Kutz added, have made no decision as to whether between themselves or the owners to acquire the above location if Congress appropriates the necessary funds. He said he believes there are other available sites, but that the one selected should be abutting a railroad, where a private siding could be built.

$400,000 Asked for Site. The District Board, as introduced in the Senate, carries $400,000 for a site for the several buildings enumerated above, but makes no provision for money to begin construction.

The contract under which the Commissioners are now using a private trash plant near Bladensburg road expired July 1. Even if Congress allows the $400,000 for a site, the city heads will have to make some temporary arrangement for the disposal of trash and miscellaneous refuse for the next two fiscal years.

Approximately $100,000 is carried in the appropriation bill for the disposal of refuse for the year beginning July 1. The city will be able to do the collecting, but probably will have to rent the plant it is now using, if that can be done, or make some arrangement with private individuals to dispose of the refuse after it has been collected.

Citizens Discuss Site. The Federation of Citizens' Associations has a special committee considering whether the federation as a whole should oppose the site now proposed by many individuals. The committee may report at the federation meeting Saturday night.

PETER J. CLARKE DIES IN BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

Washington Building Contractor Succumbs Following Brief Illness After Brother's Funeral.

Peter J. Clarke, building contractor of this city, died suddenly Friday at 10:15 a. m. at his home in Binghamton, N. Y., where he had gone to attend the funeral of his brother, Frank. He succumbed to a brief illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James J. Russell.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Nicholson, 325 N. Street northwest. Requiem mass will be sung at Holy Trinity Church, at 12:30 p. m. Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Clarke had been in business in Washington about forty years. He was born in Susquehanna county, Pa., seventy-two years ago. He was closely identified with the growth of old Georgetown, and was a director of the Potomac Savings Bank. He was a member of the Elks, the Knights of Columbus and in the Holy Name Society and was treasurer of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Mr. Clarke is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clarke, and by three sons, two daughters, Mrs. Russell of Binghamton, N. Y., and Mrs. L. W. Roneamus of this city; and by three sons, S. Joseph, George and Frank Lester Clarke, all of this city.

FIRE STOPS SERVICE. Pipe Organ in Chevy Chase Church Is Destroyed.

Early morning services in All Saints' Episcopal Church, Chevy Chase Church, yesterday were interrupted by fire, which originated in the cellar and burned through the chancel to the organ, destroying the pipe organ and causing damage estimated at $10,000. Very little damage was done to the body of the church, and it is confidently expected that repairs will be completed in time to hold regular services next Sunday.

Canon J. W. Austin, rector of the church, who conducted the blessed sacrament service when smoke from the cellar quickly filled the church and made it necessary for the congregation to withdraw from the building. No "stall" alarm, three other companies following in response to a bell alarm.

So dense was the smoke that firemen found it impossible to enter the building from more than an hour. They were praised for their good work in saving the body of the structure. The church was dedicated in December, 1901, and has since been improved. Plans for the construction of a new church adjoining the present structure have been under way for some time.

MRS. C. S. THOMAS ILL.
